NELSON BURGLARY.

The escape of the two young men charged with robbing the Mo. Pac. station at Nelson, when in the hands of the officers seems to have had a tendency, by lessening the fear of punishment, to popularize burglaries.

The guilty party in this last case was a boy of 14 years, Carl Waller, having been placed in the care of J. K. Staples several years ago through an agency finding homes for orphan children. On Sunday night, P. M. Sandidge's store was entered and many little articles taken, in the way of a pistol, cigars etc. This was Waller's first attempt, so far as known, but not his last. Taking Johnnie Williams into his confidence, he began to plan a repetition of his former escapade. Meanwhile his confidante, who had not the honor necessary for successful thievery, informed Mr. Sandidge of the date set and other particulars. Consequently, when on Thursday night the two entered the store, the real thief was taken in charge and locked up for the night.

Arraigned before Justice Reynolds, a plea of guilty was entered to the charge of burglary and the young man bound over to await the action of the grand jury. He has been brought to Marshall and awaits his trial at the county jail.

TWO MISSING GIRLS.

Two anxious parents visited Marshall lately, attempting to find a clue to the whereabouts of their two daughters. The father and mother were Mr. and Mrs. Jno. B. Iain of the Norton neighborhood, whose daughters, Ira and Mable, slipped away from home last Friday night, telling nothing to the family of their intentions, nor leaving behind any means of tracing the manner and way of their departure.

The parents, thinking that their escape had been made via this city, came to town, but no further information as to the parties desired has been secured.

The oldest is only sixteen, a blue eyed blonde of attractive appearance, while her younger sister only numbers fourteen years of age and is also of fair complexion.

A Lunatic Returned.

Marshall Clay Lemmon and Deputy Sheriff Fristoe have recently returned from Iowa City, Iowa, where they placed in confinement in the Mt. Pleasant Asylum, a lunatic, who had escaped from the Iowa institution last month. This fact was ascertained by these officers prior to their departure with the insane man, whose true name was found to be Frank Jiruse. During his stay in this city, prior to his identification, which lasted about ten days, he had rooms at the city hall.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

C. M. Haworth, of Malta Bend, and Lula Robin, Grand Pass.

James J. Staples and Alice M. Shannon, Nelson.

Rufus P. Stolsworth, Cretcher, and Lona Hayes, Mt. Leonard.

Willie Chess, (col.) Miami, and Mollie Williams, (col.) Miami.

James P. Gordon and Nannie Marshall, Slater.

Alex Bradley and Maude Pinnell, Marshall.

MRS. CATHERINE TOOMAY KING.

Died, at her residence, on Eastwood Ave. in this city, Thursday morning at 8.20, Mrs. Catharine Toomay King, after a lingering illness of several months. Burial on Friday at the Catholic Cemetery in this city.

The deceased was born in Cork, Ireland eighty-five years prior to the very day of her death; crossing the ocean early in life with her parents, she settled in South Carolina. While here, in the year 1836, her marriage to Mr. Matthew King took place, but in 1851, the two moved to Missouri, choosing Saline county as the scene of their remaining days. What is now known as the Kennedy place, near Shackelford was entered, and as the development of the country came on with the rush of immigration, these worthy pioneers became wealthy citizens and extensive property owners.

In 1881, Mr. and Mrs. King moved to this city, where both resided until the end came, winning the respect and good will of all and the friendship and love of those who knew them intimately. Her helpmate in life preceded her to the grave several years, leaving all his property to her as a life estate, providing that at her death, it should go to four charitable and church institutions of St. Louis, Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum, The Little Sisters of the Poor, The Convent of the Good Shepherd, St. Vincent Paul Society.

Mrs. King leaves no children of her own to mourn her loss, yet one of the noblest works of her life has been the rearing of several orphan boys, who now as men recollect the kindness which characterized her motherly treatment and lament the loss of this friend, whose guiding hand has played a part in making their own success. J. J. Campbell grew up under her care, as did also Jno. Dixon and J. J. Finnigan, both of Dallas, Tex.; J. A. Kehoe, M. J. and Jno. J. Maloney of St. Louis, Governor Miles B. McSweeney of South Carolina is a nephew of the deceased.

Mrs. King has ever been a devout Catholic, interested and zealous in the work of the church. In her private life, she was ever a most exemplary Christian woman, of an open, kind and generous disposition, making friends always through these traits of character.

CASE IN JUSTICE COURT.

Will Grant, the negro who struck Norman Chaffee Wednesday night was produced before Justice Hawley Thursday morning and plead not guilty to the charge of felonious assault. Date of his trial was set and bond fixed at $400, in default of which he was sent to jail.
